

Our ancestors

Rurik, the first “Tsar” of Russia 830 – 879
Grand Prince of Novgorod, the town he has founded.

Igor Grand Prince of Kiev 878 – 945
The country’s capital city moves: and from Novgorod it settles in Kiev.

On the left : Saint Olga 890 – 960, Regent and Sviatoslav’s mother, the future Grand Prince of Kiev.
On the right her son: Sviatoslav 942 – 972 Grand Prince of Kiev.

Saint Vladimir Grand Prince of Kiev 958 – 1015.
He is the Grand Prince who Christianised Russia.

Yaroslav the Wise 978 – 1054 Grand Prince of Kiev.
His daughter, Anne (on the right), married Henri the 1st, King of France 1008-1060,
After the King's death, she reigned France from 1051 to 1059, and then became the kingdom's Regent of France from 1060 to 1066.

Vsevolod 1<sup>er</sup> Grand Prince of Kiev and Prince of Péréiaslav 1030 – 1093

|

Vladimir 1st, the Monomach 1052 – 1125
Grand Prince of Kiev and Prince of Smolensk.

|

Mstislav 1st Grand Prince of Kiev and of Novgorod 1076 – 1132.

Saint Rostislav-Michael Grand Prince of Kiev et Prince of Smolensk 1105 ? – 1168

|
David Rostislavovitch Prince of Smolensk from 1154 to 1155
Born in 1140 and death in 1197

|
Mstislav-Fedor †1230
Prince of Smolensk

|
Rostislav Prince of Smolensk
1110 – 1167

|
Gleb 1249 – 1277 or 1278
Prince of Smolensk

|
Sviatoslav †1310
Prince in Briansk

|
Gleb †1340
Prince in Briansk

|
Dimitri
Prince in Briansk

|
Ivan "Chakh"
Prince of Solomerski
|
Youri
Prince of Solomersk
|
Vassili, Prince of Solomersk,
To whom was given the nickname of: "Tat-Ichteff".

*As from Vassili the family kept the nickname of "Tatistcheff".
(Tat = bandit and ichtcheff = the person who looks for...)*

As one does not have a title on a nickname our Prince family does not mention anymore the title.

|
Féodor Tatistcheff
|
Mathieu Tatistcheff, mentioned in 1472
|
Afenassi Tatistcheff
|
Lazare Tatistcheff, mentioned in 1564
|
Stepan Tatistcheff, † after 1643
|
Alexis Tatistcheff, mentioned in 1644
|
Nikita Tatistcheff, mentioned in 1678
|

Vassili Tatistcheff 1686 - 1750, is the first historian of Russia
He was a close adviser of Peter the Great.
He created and developed the industrial activity in the South Oural.

Tatistcheff's coats of arms.

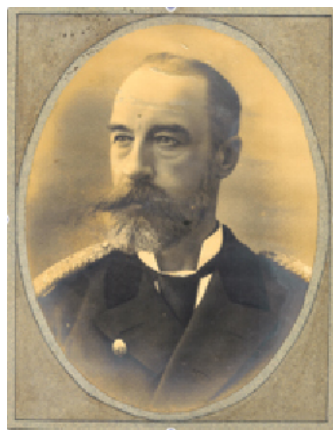

Under the reign of Peter the Great, Russia becomes more and more "Occidental" and are appearing the coats of arms.

Evgraf 1717 – 1781

Alexis 1760 – 1832

Nikita Tatistcheff 1796 – 1852

Alexis Tatistcheff 1846 – 1896

In 1900, was made the commemorative medal for the 500 years of the Tatischeff's nickname which became a family name.

Nikita Tatistcheff – the last Governor of Moscow 1879 – 1948

Théodore Tatistcheff 1909 – 1995

